

South Africa and Namibia by Sea: Around the Cape of Good Hope— with Smithsonian Journeys

DURBAN • WALVIS BAY

Le Dumont d'Urville | 11 days/10 nights | February 21, 2027

This voyage along the southern coast of South Africa can be thought of as an expedition in two parts. The first five days, from Durban to Gqeberha (formerly Port Elizabeth), are devoted to what might be called a 'safari by sea' as you explore the great game parks of the Eastern Cape, encountering elephants, lions, leopards, rhinos, and a host of other animals, including an amazing variety of bird species. The second part, focused on Cape Town and its surroundings, explores the natural beauty of the Cape Peninsula and the vineyards and whitewashed farmhouses of Stellenbosch, while also providing opportunities to delve into the city's role in the struggle against apartheid and the ongoing work of building a multi-racial society. Shore excursion in each port of call + transfers included. In alliance with Smithsonian Journeys.
